

The ACLM Health Professions Full Academic Pathway program offers university health professions programs the opportunity to prepare master's and doctorate students to be eligible to take the ACLM certification exam after graduation.

Benefits:

Demonstrates university and program commitment to lifestyle medicine

University program recognition in the ACLM Health Professional Program Directory

Upon graduation, students are fully eligible to register and take the ACLM Certification Exam

Requirements:

For approval by ACLM to be a Full Academic Pathway university program, the following criteria must be met:

- An ACLM approved Partial Academic Pathway is already in place
- At least one faculty is a DipACLM, DipABLM, and/or DiplBLM
- An active Lifestyle Medicine Student Interest Group in place
- Assignment and completion of the Foundations of Lifestyle Medicine Board Review Course within the curriculum

Contact support@lifestylemedicine.org for more information or follow QR code

